

Oregon Symphony

CARLOS KALMAR, MUSIC DIRECTOR

2016/17

Creating a stronger and more vibrant community through music

There's music for all ages... come and hear for yourself at the concert hall and beyond!

We invite you to experience the joy of music through the many programs for students and educators that Oregon Symphony has to offer. Our Education and Community Engagement programs bring music alive for audiences of all ages in Oregon and Southwest Washington, in the schools and libraries as well as in the concert hall.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 2017, 9:30 & 11 AM

Norman Huynh, associate conductor

Peanut butter and jelly, milk and cookies, Spielberg and Williams – some things just go better together. Come to the Oregon Symphony’s “Collaborations” concert and see why Russian ballet, Hollywood, and opera just wouldn’t be the same without some of music’s most creative collaborations.

Arlene Schnitzer Concert Hall

Cost: Students $3, free for students on Federal Free-Reduced Lunch program and all chaperones. Our complimentary teacher’s guide and companion CD are great resources. Also, you can arrange for a trained volunteer to visit your class to preview this concert by requesting a docent on the order form.

Youth Concerts are open to all schools, homeschool groups, and families.

How to make your Young People’s Concert reservations

Grades K–5: Kids Concerts

There's no better way to introduce the children you love to live orchestral music. Designed for ages 5 to 10, these concerts bring the music to life in an entertaining and educational way with narrator Pam Mahon and the Oregon Symphony musicians. Performances are one hour in length with no intermission.

Arlene Schnitzer Concert Hall – Sundays at 2 pm

Frozen Fairy Tales

NOVEMBER 13, 2016, 2 PM

Norman Huynh, conductor
Pam Mahon, narrator
Pacific Youth Choir
Dance West

With "Let It Go" from Disney's Frozen and music from The Snow Queen, The Winter's Tale, and The Nutcracker, kids will love this hearty celebration of the coming winter.

Pied Piper of Portlandia

FEBRUARY 12, 2017, 2 PM

Norman Huynh, conductor
Pam Mahon, narrator
Pacific Youth Choir
Dance West

We'll spirit the young audience away for a musical adventure inside the orchestra with Britten's The Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra. But we promise to bring them back with smiles on their faces!

Castles and Wizards

MARCH 19, 2017, 2 PM

Norman Huynh, conductor
Pam Mahon, narrator
Pacific Youth Choir
Dance West

Wonder what the King is doing tonight? Or the Princess? And who knows what mischief the court's wizard is up to? A concert sure to please young audiences with music from Harry Potter and more.

How to order Kids Concert tickets

To order tickets to the Kids Series as well as other Classical, Pops and Special concerts, call the Symphony ticket office at 503-228-1353 or visit our website OrSymphony.org to order tickets online.

A musical program for every age

Pre-school: Symphony Storytimes

Music and literature come together during library storytelling times for pre-schoolers. Each Storytime features a musician from one of the four families of the orchestra. Included is an “instrument petting zoo” – try out an instrument and meet the musicians. Check out our website OrSymphony.org/edu/storytimes for county library locations, dates, and times.

Grades K–12: Ensemble Performances

Ensemble Performances provide an introduction to the instrument families of the orchestra. In-school performances emphasize active participation from the audience, include narration, and vary in content and length depending on grade level. Call for pricing.

Grades K–12: Informances

Informal performance and discussion bring together musicians, students, and teachers. Symphony staff and musicians work with teachers in advance to develop informances, supporting classroom goals. Call for pricing.

Arrive early at the concert hall

Free Concert Conversations

Begin one hour prior to concert time before every Classical series concert. These conversations with conductors and musicians are led by All Classical Portland On Air Hosts.

Prelude Series Performances

Short 20 minute performances in the mezzanine balcony space are offered by local school and community ensembles immediately prior to Classical, Pops, and Kids concerts.

Get involved as a volunteer

There are many opportunities to share your passion for the music in the Education and Community Engagement programs as a volunteer.

To find out more, please visit OrSymphony.org/edu/volunteer or call Program Director Monica Hayes, at 503-416-6312.

Grades 7–12: Master Classes and Coaching

Lessons/Clinics/Master Classes: Symphony musicians provide group lessons on fundamental techniques and musicianship. Musicians work with students in small groups on music chosen by their teachers. Students are given opportunities to perform and receive feedback. Call for pricing.

K–12 and college: $10 Student Tickets

Discounted student tickets – only $10 each – are available for Oregon Symphony Classical series concerts (with the exception to the Kids series), subject to availability. We have made it easy for students to snap them up:

- At the ticket office: Show your student ID, in person, beginning the Monday before each concert weekend, at 909 SW Washington St., Portland.
- At the concert hall: Show your student ID, beginning two hours before each performance, at 1037 SW Broadway, Portland.
- Go to OrSymphony.org/student – our web page just for students – for concert and ticketing information.

For more information and pricing on in-school performances and coaching
